Forecast for Friday 10 Jun 2022

Weather: Rather cloudy overnight with patchy light rain and drizzle for southern and western fells, perhaps some clearer spells in the east. Rather cloudy across southern and western fells at first with a little light rain and drizzle, otherwise a bright morning with sunny spells developing, although towards midday a few showers developing. The showers become more widespread, and perhaps occasionally heavy and thundery, for a time through the afternoon before largely dying out through the evening. Cloud increases across southern and western fells in the late evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Around 30% at first, and again later, in south and west, otherwise around 90%.

Low cloud and visibility: Periods of cloud above about 450-600m in the south and west at first and again later, otherwise only small amounts of cloud, mainly in association with showers, below the summits. Away from cloud visibility very good falling to several kilometres in any rain or drizzle and very briefly in showers.
